

THE IMPACT OF CLIMATE ON THE ECONOMY

12 May 2023 | 9:00 – 18:00 | Henley Business School, Seminar Room 108

The Centre for Economic Institutions and Business History (CEIBH), the Group for Economic Analysis at Reading (GEAR) and the National Institute of Economic and Social Research (NIESR) have joined efforts in co-organising a topical and timely multidisciplinary workshop on “The Impact of Climate on the Economy”.

The workshop will be held at the University of Reading, Henley Business School, Seminar

Room 108 on Friday, 12 May 2023, and it contributes to University’s “Prosperity and Resilience” Research Theme.

The workshop will consist of three sessions (each featuring three papers), which will present three different perspectives on the theme of the workshop, as follows:

SESSION 1

Accounting, Finance and (Re-)Insurance Perspective

SESSION 2

Extreme Weather and Economic History Perspective

SESSION 3

Macroeconomics and
Moral Philosophy Perspective

CO-ORGANISERS AND WORKSHOP HOSTS:

- Mark Casson (CEIBH), University of Reading
- Fangya Xu and Alexander Mihailov (both GEAR), University of Reading
- Stephen Millard (NIESR)

To learn more about the workshop, please visit its website, where you can also access the online registration form (for attendance in person only) and the full programme.