Welcome

Join us in Belfast for the 2024 RES Conference

I am excited to announce that the prestigious Royal Economic Society Conference will make its return in 2024, hosted at Queen's University Belfast.

For over 35 years, the RES Conference has stood at the forefront of intellectual debate and discussion bringing together leading economists from across the world.

In 2024, we're set to deliver an exceptional event with an exhilarating line up of speakers:

- Hahn Lecture by Prof. Kevin Hoover, Professor of Economics and Philosophy, Duke University
- The Economic Journal Lecture by Prof. Benjamin Moll, Professor of Economics, London School of Economics and Political Science
- Sargan Lecture by Prof. Mariacristina De Nardi, Thomas Sargent Professor of Economics, University of Minnesota

Our exhibition and sponsorship opportunities have grown stronger year after year. The conference offers an invaluable opportunity to engage with leading economists, share insights, connect with the current labour market and be part of the future of economics.

We sincerely hope sponsors new and old will join us in for what promises to be the highlight of the year.

See you in March!

Giovanni Razzu

What to expect as a sponsor

The Royal Economic Society's 3-day conference will convene over 500 professionals per day, all working and teaching in economics and related disciplines. This event offers sponsors and exhibitors an exceptional opportunity to meet, listen, inform, and network.

We've crafted an array of sponsorship opportunities aimed at facilitating direct, face-to-face connections with your target audience, while also allowing you to showcase your brand and products.

The RES is steadfast in its commitment to minimising the environmental impact of such events. We're planning a low-impact, sustainable conference, intending to use single branded sponsored items and incorporate recycled and reusable sponsored merchandise.

Why Attend?

Participating and promoting your organisation at the RES Annual Conference presents a direct and cost-effective means to:

- Raise brand awareness within your key market to existing and potential new customers
- Realise opportunities for new customer acquisition and client retention by discussing their needs in person
- Build product recognition within your key demographic in real time
- Increase your knowledge and stay up to date with the sector.

The RES, through its conference and dedicated app, provides:

- Clear and accessible exhibition signposting with designated times for attendees to visit
- Flexible options to suit your budget and specific requirements
- Instantly downloadable resources for delegates via the app
- The ability to redirect people to your website as you engage with them via the app
- Lead capture facilities within the conference app, so you can keep a track of your new contacts.

Headline Sponsor

Investment £10,000

1 available

New for 2024 - The headline sponsorship package has been designed to align your company with excellence and position you at the forefront of the profession. Our headline sponsor will have the opportunity to sponsor one of five keynote sessions at our conference. Working alongside the Programme Chair, the headline sponsor can provide a welcome at the start of the keynote and input into who the speaker might be.

Our premier package is aimed at providing you with the upmost visibility and engagement opportunities - before the conference, with a bespoke email, during the conference via an exhibition space and acknowledgement from the RES President but also post conference in an email follow up.

Pre-conference

- Your logo on all conference marketing emails and RES website
- Your profile on the conference website and app (logo, name, contacts, website)
- RES will send 1 pre-conference email to all delegates (sponsor to provide copy, images/video content) an opportunity to advertise your sponsorship and presence.

At the conference

- 1 banner in registration/reception area (sponsor to provide)
- Your logo and profile on the conference app homepage with a link to your profile
- Your logo on the screen in the lecture hall
- Complimentary 3-day exhibition stand in the conference catering area
- 1 branded slide on rotation in the lecture hall before all main plenary sessions
- Thank you from the RES President at the start and close of the conference
- Sponsor our 5th keynote lecture - an opportunity to input into the conference content
- Complimentary 3-day exhibition space in the conference catering area
- 2 all access 3-day conference passes - including social events
